

Your site will get traffic from all over the world!

With that in mind, be ready and get the most of your visitors by speaking the language they speak. Adding a multi-language package into your AppStacks Canvas system will allow you to setup content in your site in different languages and your users to pick which is their preferred language while in your site.

Cost: $550

What you get:

- Installation and setup of multi-language component
- Configuration changes for displaying language options in website homepage
- 30 day full support for defects and issues after changes go live in your site

Note:

- You define which languages to make available in your site
- Entering content in the different languages you select is not included in the scope of this service
- Multi-language capabilities are available to most system areas, including content, users, sections, categories, however, some components available in AppStacks Canvas might not be fully compatible with multi-language capabilities
